

Greetings small group leaders, co-leaders, hosts, apprentices, and leaders in training:

If you have not read Pastor Jeremiah's email, please do so before reading the rest of this message (click here to read message).

The most important thing for you and your small group to remember is that God is in control. He will use this crisis to proclaim His love to the world. Shadow Mountain and the Small Groups Ministry are actively working to support you and your group until this crisis is over.

And, this is a time when God is being uniquely glorified through small groups. In the midst of this emergency, we are all still connected throughout San Diego County.

Here are a few details to keep in mind this week:

First, we will email out the Leaders Notes and Small Group questions today.

Until further notice, there will be no meetings of any kind that will take place on Shadow Mountain campus (this includes on-campus small groups and leadership trainings).

Be sure to stay connected to SMCC at the following links:

Be sure to read any new emails that you get from Shadow Mountain.

Finally, it is up to you and your group to meet, or to stay connected via phone, email, or internet video services (Zoom, Skype, Facetime, etc.). If your group meets, be sure to adhere to all CDC protocols. Click here to connect to CDC website.
